Things to Make Things to Learn Things to Do

STAMP MAPS

There are many things you can do with a lot of foreign stamps in addition to keeping them in your stamp album. Here are some ideas for you. The first one is to use a lot of cheap stamps to make a stamp map. Let us say you want to make a map of France. You can make it as large or small as you want.

If you have a large printed map of France you can use this. If you want to keep it you can still use it! Take a large sheet of white paper. Place a sheet of carbon over it. Then place the map on top of it. Trace the outline of France over the map. You need not use a pencil. A stylus will do the trick. The result will be that you now have an outline of France. You can use thick oaktag if you so desire instead of white paper.

Take your French stamps. You can use all of one color though they may have different denominations on them and also be of different issues. Paste them all over the map. You can cut some of them so that they will fit the outline perfectly. Or you can use a trick that one of the boys did. He pasted them anyway he wanted. Even if they went outside the outline. Then he reversed the sheet. With a pair of scissors he carefully trimmed the excess off the stamps.

How will you label the word "France" on this map? You use stamps of a contrasting color and in block letters print with them the word "France." You can use this technique for different countries of the world. You can also make maps of the different continents, such as North America, South America, or of Asia. You can make a map of an entire continent and show the different countries with different stamps.

Let us say you want to show the different countries of South America. You can use a regular large map of South America or make the carbon outline. For Brazil you will use Brazilian stamps. For Chile you will use Chilean stamps. Use different colors so that they will show the different countries.

One of the boys I know made a very clever map. Instead of using paper or oaktag he used a large sheet of plastic. He had Spain on this sheet of plastic. And he hung it up in his room. At an angle he had a color bulb that reflected light upon the map. These maps can be used either for school work or kept in your den or bedroom.

One of the girls had an idea for an outline map that she thought was entirely different from anything else ever made with stamps. Her father gave her a large old square mirror in a frame. On the back she traced Italy but did it in reverse. This was so that if you looked at the front of the mirror, it would come out o.k. Then she carefully scraped away all the "silvering" with a razor blade. Now she had the outline of Italy. She pasted Italian stamps with the faces outwards.

When this was hung up you had a map of Italy, made from Italian stamps and surrounded by a sea — of mirror. You can of course do this with any other country or continent. This certainly would be a beautiful gift to give to any person.

IDENTIFICATIONS

Elaine had a birthday party. Her mother invited not only her friends but also some of the parents. You know how parents are! They hate to sit back and do nothing. They want to participate in some of the games. Elaine had a game which was very interesting. The boys and girls as well as their parents enjoyed it very much. She told me that her aunt had informed her about this game and then helped her to prepare it.

The parents and the children were all seated on chairs. Then a large sheet of paper was hung on the wall. It contained a list of names. Elaine then addressed the boys and girls.

"Our parents as well as our teachers often tell us that we should read certain books. They are the great classics of literature. You will notice the names on this large sheet of paper. I am certain you will recognize most of these names. Charles Dickens is there as William Shakespeare. Altogether there are thirty names of famous writers.

I have on the table a pack of large cards. These I made myself by cutting them from heavy cardboard. On each one of these large cards there is a selection from a famous writer. We will have somebody with a good voice read a selection. You will have to identify the writer. We will go around as though you were all seated in a circle.

If you correctly identify the writer you get one point. If you make a mistake you lose one point. When you make a mistake, the person seated next to you must answer. However if that person does not answer correctly, a point is also lost. But from then on, you raise your hand. First hand up means that person has the first extra chance to gain a point. If that person answers correctly, the one point is earned. If the answer is incorrect, a point is lost. Hands up until we get the correct answer. But if nobody answers it correctly this is called "a skip." We won't tell you the correct answer until the game is over.

On the large sheet of paper there are twenty-five names. But we have seventy-five cards. It means that some of the selections are from the same author. First person to get seven points will win a prize. However if we exhaust all the cards and nobody has reached the total of seven points, then the person with the highest score wins.

The first selection she read was as follows:

"You have made me offer of Sicily, Sardinia; and I must Rid all the sea of pirates; then, to send Measures of wheat to Rome; this greed upon, to part with unhacked edges, and bear back Our targets undinted."

It was Shakespeare! It wasn't necessary to tell exactly the name of the story or play.

The second selection she read was as follows:

"I have an almost feminine partiality for old china. When I go to see any great house, I inquire for the china-closet, and next for the picture gallery. I cannot defend the order of preference, but by saying, that we have all some taste or other, of too ancient a date to admit of remembering distinctly that it was an acquired one."

It was Charles Lamb, and nobody got this one. You can make your selections difficult or easy. Hope you enjoy this game. We all liked it a lot.

A RIDING WE WILL GO

This past week-end I went out riding twice. On Saturday I went by myself. Dressed in a western outfit I rode THUNDER. But on Sunday afternoon I went with my son to another riding stable where only English saddle horses may be obtained.

So this time I was dressed entirely different. I rode a Palamino called BLONDIE and my son rode a buckskin called MASTERLY. The western rider dosen't like the English saddle. As a cowboy once remarked," What, me ride a postage stamp?" Take your choice. But this time we talk about English saddle riding.

We used double reins and you should learn how to handle them. Sometimes you are told, "You aren't ready for it." However you will never be ready until and unless you try it. If necessary, have the instructor ride with you in the ring.

You can drive a car without exactly knowing all the technical details and operation of the motor. But you still should know essentially what you are doing while you drive a car, what can happen to the car, and what to do in an emergency. For it is sound to say that what you do in driving a car does depend upon what a car can do-and what a car can't do.

The same does apply to a horse. You should know the parts of a horse. Pasterns, fetlocks, canons, tendons, chestnuts, gaskins, hocks, point of rump, croup, throttle, or withers should not sound like foreign language to you. And when you look at a horse you should know what makes good conformation as well as bad conformation.

Your aim is to obtain good horsemanship. Whenever you keep on riding the same horse you want to understand the individual temperament of that particular horse. For horses, like cars, do differ-and greatly! You have to know what makes a horse "tick" and in view of that just what you should do-and why you do it! As one great horse authority pointed out: "A horse's actions are based on two fundamental motives. The first is what we call animal instincts. The most important one in that group is fear.It makes not much difference whether the fear is natural or acquired. We must reckon with it. The second is what we call memory and what some call intelligence. A horse can learn by the past what and how to act in the future."

So bear that in mind the next time you go riding and you will find you understand the horse just a little better.

COMPLETE 4 PIECE MATCHED SET OF LUGGAGE

Unbelievably Priced at ONLY $2.98

Yes, that price is correct. Only $2.98 for the complete 4 piece set. Not $2.98 each, but $2.98 complete for all 4 pieces. And, there is nothing else to buy . . . no extras, no additions. Its modern appearance and wide-stitched simulated leatherette material will amaze you with its good looks.

IMPORTED AND MASS PRODUCED TO MAKE THIS PRICE POSSIBLE

This tremendous bargain is possible only through the use of pressed chip-board. This wonderfully versatile material bends around three sides and is bonded by sturdy wide stitching to the overlapping closing. Snap locks and handles are riveted in place. The big one has extra metal stripping for strength and long wear. Inside has laminated modern design print. Each piece fits inside the next larger which saves your storage space and makes our shipping easier.

NOT FANCY LUGGAGE — BUT USEFUL, PRACTICAL

You will be thrilled and delighted with the many, many uses you will find for this set. It will make a marvelous gift and your thoughtfulness will be appreciated for such a long time. Lightweight. It avoids the silly situation where the luggage weighs more than the clothing carried. When this offer was first made to us by the overseas company we couldn't believe our ears, but we were delighted when we saw it just a few days ago—and you will be too. Each piece serves a specific purpose such as vanity and cosmetic case (8"), personal Valet (10"), overnight case (12") or family size (14").

Remember, the complete price for all 4 matched pieces if luggage is only $2.98. Because of its size, we are forced to ask for an additional 65c shipping charge

10 Day Free Trial

Simply fill in the coupon and when your 4 piece matching set of luggage arrives, pay the postman only $2.98 plus C.O.D. and shipping charges. Then, give one them for 10 full days. If you are not 100% delighted then simply return them for your full purchase price refund.
